Guest Tony Magliano

A guest is with us this weekend, Tony Magliano. Tony is an internationally syndicated Catholic Social Justice and Peace columnist. Since 2001, over 400 of his columns have been published based on the Church's consistent ethic of life and Catholic Social-Teaching. He is speaking at our Liturgies and will do a presentation between our morning masses at 9:30AM. I am sure his presentation will be informative in bringing a deeper appreciation to our mission as a church.

Please remember all of our parishioners who are in hospitals and nursing homes and our homebound. Also, please pray for our deceased parishioners and loved ones especially, Elaine Spaziano.

One With the Suffering People of Syria

Last weekend the deplorable was in Syria again used chemical weapons. A seven year war that has created an intolerable living situation for so many people. On Sunday, April 8th, Pope Francis decried the suspected gas attack as a use of “instruments of extermination” that is unjustifiable, “there is no such thing as a good war and a bad war, nothing, but nothing, can justify the use of such instruments of extermination on defenseless people and populations,” he said at the end of a Mass in St. Peter’s Square. “Let us pray for all the deceased, for the wounded, for the families who suffer.”

We pray for an end to the war in Syria and ask God to give comfort and strength to our sisters and brothers who have suffered for too long.

God of Mercy, hear the cries of your people.

How long, O God, must our Syrian sisters and brothers suffer injustice? How long must they be casualties of hollow wars?

With heavy hearts, we watch the aftermath of the chemical attack in eastern Ghouta.

With numbing grief, we learn of scores of people, including children, who died after plumes of toxic gas fell upon them, like a “winter fog”—Many convulsing, choking, gasping for air, and foaming at the mouth.

They are not numbers, but names, members of a family, our human family. They are mothers, fathers, sons, daughters, and grandparents. They are the face of your Son—crying out,

“My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?” (Matthew 27:46)

Give comfort to the father who carried his lifeless little girl, her lips blue, her dark curls brushing closed eyes, wrapped in a blue sheet.

Give comfort to the mothers and fathers as they lay to rest their children in makeshift burial sites.

Give comfort to those who helplessly watched as family members and neighbors fell like leaves to the ground, gasping for air, struggling to breathe, pleading for help.

Give comfort to the doctors, nurses, and rescue workers as they provide care and treatment to those who survived the attack.

Give comfort to those who live in perpetual fear, to those who are internally displaced, and to those who have fled to neighboring countries as war refugees.

Give strength to those who are making a desperate attempt to reach Europe by land or sea, with many dying tragically along the way.

God, as shocking as this unacceptable massacre is, it is but one episode in the long nightmare of Syria’s civil conflict.

It is time that the international community stands up and says, “Enough.”

We join with Pope Francis and “appeal to the conscience of those who have political responsibilities, locally, and internationally, to put an end to this tragedy and to bring relief to that dear population which for too long has been overwhelmed by war.” Amen.

Rejoice and Be Glad: On the Call to Holiness in the Contemporary World

“Rejoice and Be Glad: On the Call to Holiness in the Contemporary World” is the title of Pope Francis’ new exhortation that was released this past Monday, April 9th. In the introduction to the exhortation, Francis emphasizes that the goal of his exhortation is to “re-propose the call to holiness in a practical way for our own time, with all its risks, challenges, and opportunities.”

An apostolic exhortation is considered the second highest form of papal teaching after an encyclical letter. You may recall his first exhortation, “Joy of the Gospel”

In light of Easter joy, as we celebrate the resurrection of our Lord, it is a fitting time to rekindle our baptismal call to be holy by reading this wonderful work of Pope Francis.

If you are interested in ordering a copy and joining in a discussion of the book on the Tuesdays of May, beginning May 1st, at 2:00PM or 7:00PM, please call Delores at the Parish Center (722-4388).

We are all called to holiness! Take time to read this book and examine how you are answering this call.

Let’s Talk Race!

This six-session program will began on the 50th anniversary of the assassination of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. on April 4th. Additional sessions will be on April 18th, as well as on May 2nd, 9th, and 16th. The time frame is from 7:00PM—8:30PM at St. Mary’s Church on the corner of Court and Fayette Streets in Binghamton. There is no cost for this program. Feel free to invite a friend, or spread this message. Please RSVP to Rev. Gary Smith so he knows how many people will attend (micah.newyork@icloud.com). All are invited and encouraged to attend. We hope you will be able to join us in this important program.

Child Abuse Prevention Month

April is National Child Abuse Prevention Month. It is most appropriate that Child Abuse Prevention Month is held during the Easter season. There is no better time than Easter to celebrate the protection of our most valuable gift from God—our children and young people. For information on how you can become more informed and involved in keeping our children, young people, and vulnerable adults safe, contact the Office of Safe Environment at (315) 470-1421.
